BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS. [ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.] BANGOR, MAINE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1893. Price Three Cents. VOL. LX.—NO. 241.

Just a little Gumption, in the matter of washing, will lead you to use Pearline Look about you and see the work of your friends who use it Isn't the work easier? Isn't it better done? Can't you see that it must be easier and better without all that rubbing that tires out women and wears out clothes? Gumption is the seeing why and the knowing how You can't know how to wash with the least work and the most saving, unless you use Pearline.

Send it Back — Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline" IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders at Lawrence

Directors Chosen and Other Important Business Transacted.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct 11 The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston & Maine Railroad was held in City Hall in this city this morning Hon Frank Jones called the meeting to order Clark Sigourney Butler read the call for the meeting The records of the last annual and two special meetings were read and approved The report of the directors was approved without reading

On motion of A P Burnham the number of directors of the ensuing year was fixed at fifteen A ballot was taken on the directors and resulted as follows

Whole number of votes cast, 127 983

Lucius Tuttle, Boston, 127 982, Samuel C Lawrence Medford 127 983 Joseph S Ricker, Portland Me, 127 982, George M Pullman Chicago, Ill 127,7-6 Richard Olney, Boston 127,835, William … Hart Boston, 127,983 A W Sulloway Franklin N H, 127 982 Joseph H White, Brookline, 127 983, Walter Hunnewell Boston, 127 8 0 Henry R Reed Boston 127 98- Arctas Blood Manchester, N H, 127,982 Lewis Cass Ledyard New York N Y 127,783 Henry M Whitney, Brookline 127 859 Henry … Dimock, New York N Y, 127,719 William Whiting, Holyoke 1- 09- William Gaston, Boston, 23 Amos Blanchard Andover 23 Gustavus Bosson, Gloucester, 23 Thomas Wigglesworth, Boston, 21 Sigourney Butler Boston, 57, L P Crooker, Manchester 57

The first fifteen were declared elected

It was voted to approve the lease by the Boston & Lowell R R the corporation, road franchise and property of the Peterboro R R, upon terms agreed to by the directors also to approve the purchase of the West Amesbury branch railroad

The stockholders also voted to issue 50 year bonds to an amount not exceeding $4,000 000, at a rate of interest payable semi annually, not exceeding 5 per cent, for the purpose of refunding the debt of the company paying money borrowed for any lawful purpose and making improvements on the road and leased lines

This ticket omits the names of Frank Jones Charles A Sinclair and Arthur Sewall, and substitutes therefor Messrs Whiting, Dimock and Whitney

Mr Olney addressed the meeting saying the omission of the familiar name of Mr Frank Jones of Portsmouth, from the printed ballot prepared for the meeting, was not only with Mr Jones consent but was against the wishes and consent of the directors, who repeatedly and strongly urged him to consent to a re-election but for personal reasons Mr Jones had concluded that he could no longer serve as a director

Report of Inspector General Breckenridge, of the United States Army.

Shameful Condition of Affairs Set Forth in the Report.

WASHINGTON Oct 11 Brig Gen Joseph D Breckenridge, Inspector General of the United States army, has made a report to the Secretary of War, setting forth the condition of affairs prevailing in regard to our coast defences, which is officially characterized as "disgraceful" It is shown that almost the entire southern coast on the Atlantic seaboard is absolutely unprotected and at the mercy of a foreign foe Forts have been allowed to crumble away cannon have rusted and gun carriages rotted General Breckenridge recommends that measures be taken to improve the condition of these defences

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Second Day's Session of the American Board of Commissioners at Worcester

WORCESTER Mass, Oct 11 The second day's session of the 84th annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions opened in Mechanics Hall this morning There was a very large attendance The committee of … to consider all resolutions and reports … relative to the centennial … of the Board was appointed … business … Rev … D D then made … address on The Personal Factor in the Missionary Problem

The report of the committee of eleven on the relation of the Board to the churches adopted at Chicago last year was … for the time being

Rev … Barton Missionary from Harpoot Turkey spoke of the … importance of the work in that country Rev Chas H Daniels D D of New York read a … report … Rev Dr N G Clark as follows

The … of the Annual Survey includes … of the Board in Mexico Spain … Bulgaria and Macedonia the Madura missions … India Ceylon and Japan

Work was begun by the American Board in … twenty one years ago Thirty eight churches with over … 0 communicants attest the … which has attended our efforts During the past year six new churches have been organized including one received from the Methodists and over 300 communicants added on confession of faith The results thus far accomplished compare very favorably with those of other fields The object in establishing missions in no nominally Christian lands not so much in the expectation of the … of Protestantism by the older established churches—such as the Roman Catholic and Armenian—but of introducing the leaven of a purer faith which should in due time quicken them to a genuine Christian life … The direct results in … cannot be estimated in figures The spirit of opposition and of persecution is evidently passing away and the missionary once despised and assailed with every reproach is now treated with courtesy save in some places into which the light has not yet penetrated

In Mexico the erection of two church edifices of substantial character has been of great influence in calling the attention of the better classes to the work in progress Each church building may fairly be said to be worth as much in direct Christian influence as would be the presence of another missionary family—perhaps more In the northern portion of the field mission find a hearty welcome at many points that recently closed … approach The schools for girls at three different points have made good progress during the year The training school at … so sustained jointly by the New West Commission now … in the Education Society and the American Board has done most valuable service the past year in raising up an efficient body of native preachers The first attack to the success of the work in this mission is the order to retrench on the scant expenditure of the present year Instead of this retrenchment an advance of at least $12 0 0 is imperatively needed for the erection of a girls school in Guadalajara and two dwelling houses for missionary families

In Spain little change is to be reported The evangelistic work at fifteen different centres has been sustained with great difficulty and no progress has been possible for want of necessary funds The wretched poverty of the people cannot be described In Spain, emphatically to the poor the gospel is preached and the churches fail to grow in numbers because of the emigration of all who can get away in the hope of bettering their condition Instead of abandoning preaching places and throwing these struggling churches upon their own resources as we have been forced to do this year, we ought to appropriate at least $6 000 more for evangelistic work

After two and a half centuries the light of the gospel once more shines upon the land of Huss The missionaries in Austria find their hands more than full and opportunities of enlarged work on every hand The number of churches has been doubled during the year and … members received The work is no longer confined to the humblest classes but persons of education and standing in their own communities are being attracted by the gospel

In Bulgaria and Macedonia the large reduction in appropriations for the past year has prevented any marked advance while the opposition from the ecclesiastics in Bulgaria has been more determined than ever In Macedonia the same opposition has been met with to which has been added the determined purpose of the Turkish authorities to prevent evangelistic effort so far as possible

The late Decennial Conference at Bombay has only confirmed the repeated testimony of thoughtful observers from this country who have visited India within the past few years A great change of sentiment is in progress There is a readiness on the part of the people to listen to the gospel such as has never before been shown and in many instances entire villages are turning to our missionaries for instruction in the truth Yet in these most favorable circumstances the missions of the Board of India have little more than hold their own the past year by reason of the very heavy retrenchment made upon all branches of the work, and there is no prospect of any real advance except as funds can be secured to enable the missionaries to improve the opportunities now open before them

It is nineteen years last March since the first church of the Japan Mission of the American Board was organized at Kobe At the present time there are not far from 180 churches with over 12 000 members Of these churches sixty five are independent and self-supporting

The Committee on Treasurers reported that the office had been conducted with ability and intelligence Regular donations have fallen off $2,067 Donations for the year were larger than those of any year previous to last year, including legacies, and all the total receipts, have fallen off nearly $165 000 The committee deplored the business depression in the country, as an income of a million a year is necessary Now interest must be excited

Rev Judson Smith, D D, next made his address.

The past year yields cheering proofs that this divinely inspired force is successfully at work in all the fields we occupy in China The churches have received unwonted additions, native Christians, preachers and laymen, are more deeply enlisted in bringing their own people to Christ, Chinese homes in great numbers are open to the visits of missionary women, and the sweet message they bring is laid up and pondered in many a heart; the schools are sought by greater numbers, and their influence takes more deeply into mind and heart and life, inquirers are numerous, and new places are opened to missionary effort, the Bible and Christian books circulate more widely, the hospitals and dispensaries are thronged, and the Christian instruction given with the medical …

said receives far and yields precious fruit after many days The conditions are not the same in all the missions, or even in the several stations of each mission and there are many obstacles many disappointments some sad failures but on the whole the situation is brighter and more full of cheer, the promise for the future greater along all lines of work than at any time during the sixty four years since Messrs Bridgman and Abeel began the work of the Board in China

Much Anxiety to Know What Position President Cleveland will Take.

Admiral Mello Professes the Most Patriotic Purposes

NEW YORK Oct 11 The Herald's Montevideo despatch contains the following Much anxiety is felt to know what action President Cleveland will instruct Minister Thompson to take with regard to the question of supporting the Argentine and Chilian Minister in Rio in their protest against local diplomats of other nations interfering between the belligerents The rebel Admiral has issued another manifesto in which he declares he will adhere rigidly to Republican institutions and form of government "I have solemnly declared" he says "and I now repeat that neither I nor my companions aspire to power for our own benefit Our only object is to save and restore peace to this aggressed country, to liberate a people who have been subjugated and sacrificed by the iron hand of tyranny, by the incredible want of patriotism and … ambition of the chief of the government who refuses to submit to the … of public opinion

THE YACHT RACE.

Another Drifting Match Between the Two Yachts

The Committee Wanted to Postpone but the Englishman Objects

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS 10 30 … Both yachts are now off the lightship The judges boat is going out … the course will be No 21 fifteen miles to the windward and return

Signals for Postponement

SANDY HOOK, Oct 11 11 … The judges boat flies the signals Do you assent to postponement of the race The Vigilant answers "Yes, can not see any signals from the Valkyrie The fleet is breaking up and the Vigilant is heading toward in tow of a tug.

Mistaken Signal

HIGHLANDS OF NAVESINK, Oct 11 It looks now from here although the Valkyrie refused to consent to a postponement She has displayed a signal that cannot be definitely made out from here but it was at first supposed that it was the signal … "Yes

The Valkyrie has set her baby jib topsail and this is taken to indicate that Lord Dunraven insists upon a race.

Race Ordered

1 30 P M The May has … a signal ordering the race The course will be south by west

SANDY HOOK Oct 11 The Vigilant has broken out her jib topsail and cast off from the tug both yachts standing toward the lightship The Vigilant has come round heading about … northwest followed by the Valkyrie

The Start

HIGHLANDS OF NAVESINK 1 … Oct 11 The yachts have started Valkyrie was first across the line Time taken here was 1 … and the Vigilant 1 40 10

2 41 The boats are standing in directly for this point The Valkyrie appears to be going through the water easier than the Vigilant The British boat is now pointing her position to windward without difficulty

Making Little Headway

SANDY HOOK, N J, 3 P M, Oct 11 … From here it appears that the Vigilant has gained and is now about four lengths astern of the Valkyrie

The two big yachts can be seen holding on the port tack near to the shore, but apparently making little headway The wind has dropped to about … miles an hour and has come in more to the southward The yachts are apparently blanketing one another with the Valkyrie hovering … rival

Doubtful of a Finish

SANDY HOOK 3 … P M Oct 11 The wind is now six miles and it is thought here that unless it increases very materially it will be impossible to finish the race within the stipulated six hours The Vigilant appears to be pointing better now The Valkyrie is still gaining and is apparently a mile … half … the d…

FEDERAL ELECTION LAW

Ex-President Harrison Talks Regarding its Repeal

CHICAGO Oct 11 Ex President Harrison arrived in the city last evening. Concerning the repeal of the federal election bill he said

We are sowing seeds of discord in breaking away from the national election laws The people of the country will not submit to the choice of their officials by the dice box or the jugglers hat Above all this we must have pure elections Citizens will not respect the officials whose elections are questioned or known to have been secured by palpable and open fraud If the present federal election law be repealed by Congress, all federal control and supervision of election of national officers is withdrawn and the local sentiment and local laws will govern such elections That the colored vote in the South is suppressed or counted out is a notorious fact

LITTLE ETHEL MAY WATSON

My little daughter, Ethel May said Mrs H H Watson of 153 Bloomingdale Street, Worcester Mass "was terribly and alarmingly sick She had twenty-six convulsions in two years Her nerves were very weak, her appetite very bad she could not sleep nights, her limbs would draw up and she suffered … so much She was as yellow as a fire and weak and delicate Our local doctors gave her up saying she could not be cured

But, thanks to a wonderful medicine, she is now perfectly healthy This remedy is Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and it has completely cured my little girl

Mrs Henry Fry, who lives at 4 Flat Place South Boston Mass states

My daughter … years old, became afflicted with St Vitus dance I at once placed her under the care of physicians at the Boston Dispensary where she was treated for three months She grew worse until she entirely lost her speech and the right arm became useless I tried other remedies, without benefit finally I began the use of Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and before finishing one bottle she can talk She has now used six bottles and she talks as well as ever has perfect use of her arm and is wonderfully improved in all respects

"The effects of this wonderful medicine in her case has excited great interest in our neighbors and friends who are acquainted with the facts"

Mrs … J … who resides at 318 Delaware avenue, Pittston Pa, says

My daughter, at the age of 11 years was suffering with a nervous disease at times unable to walk or talk and was constantly in motion night and day

After trying all the physicians at home and all failing to benefit her, I tried Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and it worked like magic She has taken three bottles and is now strong, healthy girl I can truly say that it is the wonderful remedy … is the best thing for nervous disease"

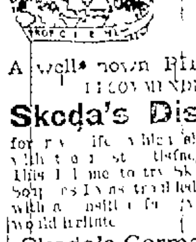

J W Cotell of Mi… … …

"… I … me … to … my … of Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I … my wife and little daughter were greatly benefited by it My wife was confined to her bed three months or more with inflammation about the womb, the local physicians being of very little use Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy got her around The little girl had a stroke of partial paralysis and I was unable to help her until this wonderful remedy cured her when the doctors could not

There is nothing like the fact that this is the true children's medicine and that it occupies in the household the position of the best and surest family remedy It is perfectly harmless to give to nervous restless sleepless and sick infants and children of any age being made from pure and healthgiving vegetable medicines

If your child is sick, send instantly to your druggist for a bottle of this wonderful curer of disease and when you see your darling gain steadily in health and strength day by day, you like thousands of other parents will bless the day you learned of its marvellous curative properties It is recommended by doctors indeed it is the discovery of an eminent physician Dr Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston Mass, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and he can in all cases be consulted free personally or by letter

Whig and Courier.

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle Brothers, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1893.

Another Reminder.

The election in Indianapolis Tuesday is another reminder of the drift of public sentiment. Last fall the Democrats carried the city by nearly seven hundred majority, but this fall the Republicans won a sweeping victory, electing their ticket by from 2,500 to 4,000 majority. The people are improving the first opportunity to express their condemnation of the Democratic party and its free trade doctrines which have plunged the country into the worst business depression experienced since 1857. The political straws this fall are very trying to our Democratic friends.

The House Debate.

In his report of the debate in the House Monday Mr. Gibson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, telegraphed his paper the following: This was the last day of the debate upon the Federal elections repeal bill. Several unusually able speeches were made on the Republican side. Mr. Dolliver, of Iowa, who had just arisen from a sick bed, made the address with which he intended to have opened the debate and which sickness prevented his delivering. Mr. Boutelle stirred up the animals and Mr. Sereno E. Payne, of New York, made one of the strongest arguments possible against the bill.

Mr. Payne confined himself to New York and produced facts proving beyond question the rascality and criminal violation of all election laws by that corruptest political organization that ever existed. He exploited the latest machine outrage perpetrated by Tammany in the nomination of Judge Maynard. He referred to the boasts of the ballot stuffers of New York city that no matter what majority the Republicans brought to Harlem Bridge, New York would off set it if it were a million. His speech was bristling with evidence and facts that the Tammany heelers on the floor of the House had to accept without daring to contradict.

Mr. Boutelle can always be relied upon to say something interesting and breezy. His Republicanism is as vigorous and healthy as is his giant body and he does not know what fear is. He spoke plain truths to-day, which were refreshing after some half-apologetic defenses of the Federal elections law which have been made. He started out by saying that history repeats itself; as had been shown by the State's rights speeches made on the floor of the House within the last few days. There had not been a discussion of the methods of controlling Federal elections, nor was John I. Davenport put on trial, nor had the system of appointing supervisors and marshals formed the basis of the arguments of the Democrats during the past week; but nearly every Democratic speech had brought in the fundamental question of the existence of a government of the United States.

The dogma of State supremacy and threats of nullification had been declared and made on the floor of the House which a few years ago would have been considered high treason. The Democrats had thrown off all disguises.

Theories which it was thought had been shattered by the great civil war now stalked abroad. This old spirit had revived and had grown so steadily, stealthily and unremittingly that to-day men who ten years ago could not have been brought to utter them now rise and re-affirm all the mischievous declarations on which the war was based.

It had been hoped that the new generation from south of Mason and Dixon's line might come and join hands with those of the North who maintained the Union in its peril and help build up a still grander nation. Within the last week the sheeted ghosts of Confederacy, gibbering the shibboleth of a defeated confederacy, had been seen entering the doors and stalking about the House of Representatives.

One would think a large portion of Democracy had been exhumed from a Southern battlefield. The hope was that the young men would recognize the union of the States, but this hope had been met with an arrogant denial of the authority of the United States.

In referring to Mr. Tucker, Mr. Boutelle said the gentleman, instead of starting where his distinguished father left off, had started in the dark days before the war. He paid his respects to the Virginian, the celebrated J. Randolph Tucker, who as Attorney General of the State, rendered an opinion that the local and State authorities had a right to stop the United States mail en route through a State and open it to ascertain if it contained anything contrary to the laws of the State.

To illustrate how tamely the radical and rabid utterances of the Southern Democrats are now received, Mr. Boutelle stated that when he, a few years ago, declared on the strength of a statement of Senator, then Representative, Blackburn, that when the Democrats got complete power they would wipe out all the reconstruction laws he was called to time by Mr. Oates, of Alabama, in very vigorous language for intimating such a thing. Quoting from the majority report he showed that the very thing he predicted had been recommended in more emphatic terms than he had employed.

The only complaint made against the election laws, Mr. Boutelle said, was that their operation tended to oppress, intimidate and ostracize Southern Democrats. Then in his most sarcastic strain he told his Southern brethren how they had suffered, how the historian writing their history from 1861 to 1893 would record how a victorious nation followed its defeated foes with oppression, etc.

His biting sarcasm told and he followed by showing how these laws had oppressed them by putting a man in the White House who never showed any enthusiasm in putting down the rebellion, and electing a Vice President who had been charged with sympathizing with the lost cause. He then went on down the list, showing that there was not a union man in the Cabinet except one who did not know he was a Democrat until he had been offered a portfolio.

In the Senate a Confederate Governor was President pro tem., all the important Senate Committee chairmanships were filled by men who make it their boast in the biographies they have written for the Congressional Directory, that they fought against the Union. In the House the Speaker and all leading chairmen of committees, exploited in their official biographies how they attempted to overthrow the United States Government. Loyal Union soldiers had been given minor places, although good Democrats, in order to promote leaders in the confederacy. In the face of all this the cry of the South is that they have been oppressed and ostracised by the Federal election laws.

It had been considered an impossibility by the people of the North that a people who had been the recipients of unheard of magnanimity on the part of a resisted Government, would in their ingratitude turn and attempt to pull down the structure which sheltered them.

Yet no more deadly blow had ever been aimed at the security of free government and the essence of nationality, than this attempt of Democracy to deny the United States [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

"forcing this assault," Mr. Boutelle said, "you of the South rely upon the doughfaced politicians of Massachusetts and ballot-box stuffers of Tammany Hall you will fail. No band of men organized for power can give you hostage if you step one inch over the lines and threaten the nationality of a republic baptized in the blood of half a million loyal men."

He charged the Southerners to speak out honestly. "You know you have dishonest elections in the South. You acknowledge it in private; why don't you stand up like men and acknowledge it in public? How long is this going to continue? Can you with your thirty States go on, unlimitedly tearing down the tariff and debauching the finances of the country?"

He defended New England against the charge made the other day that with a Democratic majority she sent a Republican delegation to Congress. He showed that the Republican majority in the New England States was over 60,000 and Congressional representation was eighteen Republicans and one Democrat. New England could survive any cowardly and false attempt to misrepresent her, he said, and looked significantly at the seat where the mugwump Everett ought to have been sitting. The latter in his speech the other day had deprecated the war and said it was a pity there had been such headlong haste. Mr. Boutelle referred to him as the "doughfaced mugwump" who had gotten into Congress by accident, and classed him with the "Bell and Everett temporizers" of ante-bellum days.

He was about to close with a quotation from James Russell Lowell, which drew an exact portrait of the "mugwump from the Quincy district," when Springer, from Illinois, in his usual blundering, officious manner, tried to call him to order for having used the term "doughface."

[Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune.]

Three exceedingly able and vigorous speeches against the bill were delivered to-day by Messrs. Dolliver, of Iowa; Boutelle, of Maine, and Payne, of New York, who are among the strong debaters on the Republican side. Mr. Dolliver was eloquent as well as argumentative, and his speech was warmly applauded by his party associates. Mr. Dolliver was born and reared in the South, and he remarked to-day that he could cherish no feelings of hostility or hatred toward the people of the South, and he appealed to the Representatives from Southern States not to consummate the great wrong they have threatened to commit. Of course all appeals of that sort fell upon deaf ears.

Mr. Boutelle paid his respects to Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, who, he said, instead of beginning where his father (John Randolph Tucker) left off, had begun where his father began thirty-five years ago, when, as Attorney-General of Virginia, he advised the Governor of that State that its authorities had the right to stop and rummage the mails of the United States and destroy publications which contained sentiments that did not meet their approval. Mr. Boutelle described in a vein of irony the severity and proscription with which the white people of the South have been treated during the last twenty-five years, and gave a partial list of the ex-Confederates who now hold places of honor and authority in Congress and in the executive department of the Government. Mr. Boutelle was clearly of the opinion that the Democratic party would have little or nothing to fear from the National Election laws under the Administration of the party now in power.

It seems a pity that Mr. Boutelle who is a man of genial disposition, cannot go through a speech without treading on Democratic toes, however hard he may try to do so. The victim to-day was Springer, whose tender sensibilities were deeply wounded by Mr. Boutelle's use of the word "doughface" to describe a New England Mug-Democrat. Springer has heard a good many harsh epithets used since he first came to Congress, and has not made audible complaint. In fact, he has himself been betrayed more than once into the use of language which would have been regarded as grossly unparliamentary if uttered by anybody else. But that word "doughface" was more than he could endure, and he said so with a good deal of feeling. There was a lurking suspicion that he did not feel so bad as he pretended, and that he only desired to break the force of Mr. Boutelle's peroration by an untimely interruption. If that was the case, he probably realized before the episode ended that he would have better remained silent.

THE PUBLIC ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

TO ATTEND THE

"The : Fashion,"

ON

Thursday, Oct. 12th, 1893.

When there will be exhibited one of the largest and most extensive stocks of CLOAKS and FURS ever shown in the State, at prices in most cases from 33 to 50 per cent. less than the same class of goods can be shown for elsewhere.

HOW and WHY we make these prices will be explained in full in our general advertisement, which will follow in a few days. The only exception to the remarkable prices which we shall make upon the bulk of our stock will be in the case of a few high-priced Novelties, to complete our line, which were made expressly for us and for which we shall be obliged to ask about the regular prices. We believe in stating it frankly and just as it is, believing it best for ourselves and our patrons to understand it exactly as it is.

We hope to see our first and second floors crowded with people whether they have any idea of buying or not, in fact we don't expect to do much business opening day, anyway.

We Simply Want You to See What We Have Got to Sell and How We Propose to Sell It.

It will be more in the form of a general introduction to the public, and we earnestly request the attendance of all who can make it convenient to come.

The goods will be cheerfully shown you, and prices stated, and we are confident that when you do get ready to buy there will be a settled conviction in your mind that "THE FASHION" comes pretty near to being the right place to go to.

Talk on Chinese Exclusion Act in the House.

Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct 11 There was apparently no larger attendance of Senators this morning than there has been any day for several weeks past, notwithstanding the official announcement that the final struggle over the silver purchase repeal bill would begin to-day

At 11 45 Mr Cockrell, Democrat, of Missouri, began the third installment of his long speech against the bill

Mr Cockrell at 2 10 yielded temporarily to Mr Smith of New Jersey who opened with a sarcastic criticism of the Senate debate on the bill He advocated the bill Mr Irby, of South Carolina spoke against the repeal bill Mr Cockrell resumed his speech closing with sarcastic allusions to President Cleveland, saying that there was but one man in public life who had more unfulfilled predictions than Grover Cleveland, and that was John Sherman

Mr Allen of Nebraska, continued his speech begun last week in opposition to the bill

Mr Allen was occupying the floor when at 6 05 Mr Dubois of Idaho suggested that it was past the hour when the Senator from Indiana (Mr Voorhees) usually made a motion to adjourn He asked that Senator whether he desired to submit the motion this evening

"I feel it my highest duty," said Mr Voorhees "not to make that motion this evening, but on the contrary to ask the Senate to sit in continuous session until the pending measure is disposed of"

Mr Dubois protested against this action He said the question should be debated with calmness and without prejudice He spoke of the possible ill effects of the proposed ordeal on Senators in the decline of life and in conclusion said "If you have concluded to abandon appeals to reason and judgment and risk the settlement of this great question to a test of which side can stand the more punishment, we desire to give notice now that we shall protect our side in every way possible We will insist that you furnish a quorum and keep it constantly in the chamber, even if it necessitate innumerable roll calls We will not aid you in this or anything else which will tend to prolong the struggle and discomfort of all The responsibility for what is to follow must rest with you as well as its physical effect upon individual Senators"

Mr Dubois speech was delivered with much earnestness and listened to in perfect silence

Mr Voorhees asked Mr Dubois to name the day on which the vote might be reached Mr Dubois would not do so Mr Voorhees said It is because obstruction is resorted to pure and simple against legislation that we are in the at...

Mr Allen resumed with his argument He was several times interrupted by demands for a quorum

House

A resolution for a recess of Congress from October 13th until November 1st was presented by Mr Hunter Democrat, of Illinois, and objected to by Mr Outhwaite, Democrat, of Ohio It was referred to the Committee on Rules

The House proceeded to consider the bill for the remission of penalties on the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius No action was taken

At the conclusion of the morning hour Mr Outhwaite called up the resolution of the Committee on Rules providing for the immediate consideration of the bill to amend the Geary Chinese exclusion act

Mr McCreary of Kentucky advocated the bill, which he explained, extended for six months the time within which the Chinese might register and obtain certificates of residence

Mr Geary of California denied that the bill which bore his name contained any violation of treaty stipulations

Within the past 30 years, he said $500,000,000 was taken from the Pacific coast to foreign lands American labor, he said could not be protected by the tariff against foreign pauper labor while the pauper laborer labored to come himself He ridiculed the statement that it would take $7,000,000 to deport the unregistered Chinese It would not he declared involve an expenditure of $1,000,000 He criticized the action of the administration in not enforcing the law

At the conclusion of Mr Geary's speech the House adjourned

NO RACE WEDNESDAY.

The Yachts Could Not Finish Within the Time Limit.

Vigilant Led Half a Mile When Trial was Given Up.

The Race Announced to Occur on Friday of this Week

NEW YORK Oct 11 The flagship May steamed down to the start at 10 30 with the signal that the race would be 15 miles to the windward or leeward and return The wind was very light from the northeast and the outlook for a race was poor At 10 15 the Vigilant and Valkyrie both signified their willingness to postpone the race until late in the day At 10 50 the signal was hoisted asking if both yachts assented to calling the race off for the day The Vigilant answered "Yes" The Valkyrie desired to race At 1 o the preliminary signal sounded the course being south by west Both yachts were under mainsails jib club topsails and staysails

When the preparatory gun flashed the wind was light from the south by west Both yachts were to the northward and westward of the line The Valkyrie was heading east on the starboard and the Vigilant west on the port The American soon went about and they both stood to the eastward the Englishman to the windward a trifle in the lead

As the starting gun boomed both went on the port tack the Valkyrie having the weather gauge over the Vigilant The Englishman seemed to be moving through the water much faster and went over the line fully a minute

Ahead of the American

The wind seemed to freshen for a brief interval When the Valkyrie put down her helm the Vigilant was clearly head to wind yet the Englishman was around and had its best sails full while the American's jib topsail was flapping This quickness in stays is the Valkyrie's only point of superiority Even this was of little avail to the Valkyrie for the Vigilant outfoot and outpointed her at every turn For the first half hour after the start the Valkyrie gained rapidly on the Vigilant but finally the latter walked right through the lee of her rival

At 1 S the wind began to freshen and the Valkyrie to pick up She was 200 ... four or five lengths ahead and 200 yards to the windward About ... a large coasting steam ... directly ... the path of the yachts The Valkyrie was forced to go on the starboard tack at 2 55 to avoid the steamer's wash The Valkyrie soon went about, gain and headed in for Seabright crossing the Vigilant's bow for the first time since she has been in American waters At 3 12 the Valkyrie then within half a mile of Norman ... Hook Seabright went on the starboard tack The Vigilant went on the starboard tack at 3 14 11 At 3 18 the ...

Valkyrie Tacked in Shore

Feeling ... on the starboard tack at 3 20 the Vigilant following her on the port tack at 3 16 going on the starboard tack five minutes later On this tack both yachts stood on long leg at ... off shore for a ... early an hour It was ... between the ... on this leg the Vigilant outfooting ... outpointing the Valkyrie as soon as the wind would freshen and falling ... again when the breeze became lighter As the yachts approached each other it was plain the ... very close The Valkyrie having the right of way would probably force the Vigilant around if she could not cross her bow

The Vigilant foreseeing this went on the starboard tack at 4 00 The Valkyrie made the mistake of the race by splitting tacks with her antagonist instead of hanging by The Vigilant crossed the Valkyrie's bows nearly a fourth of a mile in the lead This was a great achievement for the American boat for up to this time the Englishman had been ahead and constantly gaining, The Vigilant ... the ... take by tacking ashore for there to lead the wind

The yachts passed the turn to starboard in the following order Vigilant 6 07 00, Valkyrie, 6 11 00

Long before dark it was known that the race could not be made within the limit of six hours yet the yachts stood for the line until 7 30 when they were taken in tow The race was

Stubbornly Contested

The windward work done by the Englishman during the first half was the finest ever seen in this country It showed that in very light airs the Valkyrie is a dangerous competitor and had she not tacked in shore and lost the wind would in doubtedly have beaten the Vigilant around the first mark The Vigilant took 7 hours and 22 minutes to run from the lightship to the turn and the Valkyrie 6 hours and 29 minutes On the run home the Valkyrie gained considerably and not until the six hour limit had almost expired did either boat give up the race

The boats were then fully seven miles from the finish and the Vigilant was leading by half a mile

It was officially announced to-night by the racing committee that the race will be sailed over again on Friday

MEXICAN BOUNDARY LINE

Commission to Make Another Survey to Determine It

A Washington despatch says Under an agreement between this government and that of Mexico the much disputed line dividing the United States from the southern republic will be definitely determined The officials of both governments have become tired of the continued contests which have arisen over the boundary question Years ago the river bed of the Rio Grande was agreed upon as the boundary line

That river is an unreliable mark It has several times changed its tortuous course, until border Texans lived in imminent danger of awaking some morning in another country The change in the river bed created controversy and embarrassment

A commission will make another survey from the mouth of the Rio Grande to the city of El Paso, which is in the western extremity of Texas and in the center of the boundary line between this country and Mexico

From El Paso to the Pacific coast the line has been carefully gone over and laid down by Col Barlow, of the army engineers That line, which marks the southern border of New Mexico, Arizona and California, follows the course of no uncertain river and the opportunities for changing do not exist The trouble has been west of El Paso.

It has been decided to have the war de... [illegible]

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT

In the Case of Harris Pelkey vs J W Smart.

Judge F W Vose of the Municipal Court, yesterday rendered his decision in the case of Harris Pelkey vs J W Smart, both of Passadumkeag for damages resulting from an alleged breach of contract for peeling bark, in which the sum of $300 was involved

The testimony was to the effect that the plaintiff agreed to peel pile and land 400 cords of bark at $2 25 a cord the defendant to furnish money to pay the men and for supplies After the plaintiff had cut 250 cords the defendant alleging that it was a losing job for him, discharged the men, took the supplies and the work ended

The suit was to recover some $300 damages The case was heard last week Judge Vose's decision was judgment for the defendant

P G White, Esq appeared for the plaintiff, and Hon D F Davis for the defendant

Did it For 'Fun'

William Kelly has a bump of humor, but unfortunately for him his ideas do not coincide with those of Capt Nickerson Last night the street sweepers were at work and John Taylor left his over coat in a doorway while at work William Kelly and a companion came down Hammond street and seeing the coat Kelly appropriated it putting it on over his own, asking the assistance of a passer-by in the operation

The latter innocently helped him but afterwards thought it a queer transaction and told Capt Nickerson of the circumstances, the latter starting off at once after Kelly and overtaking him in front of THE WHIG office When Kelly saw him coming he took off the coat He was taken in tow by the officer and lodged in the station. Taylor identified his coat Kelly said he only took it for "fun." He probably thought ... of humor during the night.

SMART AT 93

Remarkable Activity of Mr Samuel Gerrish, of Dyer Brook

Rev Theodore Gerrish of Portland, has just returned from Aroostook county While there he visited his father, Mr Samuel Gerrish who resides in the town of Dyer Brook in that county Mr Gerrish senior, was formerly a resident of this county, He was born in February 1800 and consequently was 93 years old last February He is still hale and vigorous able to walk over his farm and read without the aid of glasses During his long life he has never been obliged to employ medical assistance but once He has lived in Aroostook county fifty years and previous to that was engaged in lumbering some fifteen years in New Brunswick The last time he was in Bangor they were laying the foundations of the old Penobscot Exchange Hotel on Exchange street

Mr Gerrish has never ridden in a railroad car or ever seen a railroad train But as the Bangor and Aroostook railroad will cross his farm it is expected that he will make an exception in its favor

In politics he was an old line Whig and for several years belonged to the Old Guard of the Whig party when only three votes were cast for its candidates in the town of Linneus where he resided For many years he has been a republican of the most radical type and proposes to vote that ticket until he has at least finished his first century

When asked in regard to his health he replied that he had no fault to find only that for some unaccountable reason his eye-sight was becoming a little dim

FALL MILLINERY

Openings at C W Coffin's and Miss S J Coombs' Stores

Millinery openings were held yesterday at the stores of C W Coffin and Miss S J Coombs, on Main street and there was a splendid display of the latest fall styles at each place both in quality and quantity During the day the stores were thronged with ladies who greatly admired the choice stocks and showed their appreciation in a substantial way by purchasing

These dealers have procured large stocks of what is most approved in millinery for the fall and among the bonnets and hats are many which are gems of art and very becoming The displays are perfect and the ladies are sure to find what they desire by calling at the places previously mentioned.

The fall millinery is exceedingly handsome and attractive and both bonnets and hats are in style, with very little choice between them, although hats are considered by many to have the lead The bonnets are in small close shapes that fit snugly to the head and add nothing to the apparent size Velvet and felt are both used for bonnets and satin crowns are often added to both There are very pretty bonnets of black or colored felts in these snug shapes, with the front upturned as a coronet in scallops or leaf points covered with velvet and embroidered in silver or jet or covered with spangles

Elbow bonnets to wear with calling costumes are those with multi-colored crowns of bullion embroidery, silver gold and copper together or with green added in very effective ways Others have the satin crowns as golden brown, neatly covered with a serpentine design done in green velvet, edged with spangles there are also black satin crowns with these serpentine stripes in magenta rose or else entirely of jet spangles or perhaps in gold

Velvet crowns are of delightful effect the colors wrought in silk stitches that may be very rich and of gorgeous tones to suit the most refined taste

There is delightful latitude allowed in the selection of colors this season so that every one may be pleased

Among the trimmings for bonnets are wide black velvet ribbons edged with white duchesse lace and to these are added the accordion pleatings of black satin antique with borders of jet or colored spangles

The hats are as varied as fashion can any one could wish They are not very large On the contrary there are but few that are more than medium size Sailor hats are greatly in evidence especially intended for the ... season wear and they come in felt of every color to match costumes The newest ones have the brim turned up at the back and are slanted down in front

Turbans are quite to the front, and are the correct wear for misses and school girls They are trimmed with twist or roll of velvet a pair of Valkyrie wings and aigrette or pompon of baby ribbon The cleft front of brims is still very fashionable and for some the ... can be no more becoming shapes

AMUSEMENTS

The Chimes of Normandy

The Adams Opera Company which is playing a week's engagement at the Opera House gave the tuneful opera "The Chimes of Normandy" last night before a fair sized audience

To-night the opera will be "The Suicide Club"

Ladies Cecilian Quartette

In another column this morning we print the programme of the grand concert to be given in Brewer City Hall this evening The participants are to be the Ladies Cecilian Quartette of Portland which many of our people heard at Northport last summer and pronounced a very fine musical body and the Apollo Quartette, of this city the high reputation of which is too well known to require reference and the event will be a delight to all lovers of music ... many from this city will attend

Clara Morris

A very fine attraction is offered at the Bangor Opera House next Wednesday night in the engagement of Miss Clara Morris in D'Ennery's great play "Renee de Moray" Miss Morris is to-day one of the most important feminine figures in American drama She is a genius and singularly enough, genius on the stage takes the form of, or is evidenced by naturalness no observer can fail to notice this fact Art that conceals art it has been truthfully said, is true art Booth had it, Jefferson has it and Clara Morris has it in a most marked degree Herein lies the great difference between her and many other actresses The latter may speak properly may walk and gesticulate gracefully and do nothing that can give positive offence to the critic

But Miss Morris has the vital spark that enables her to invest her words and actions with a power that sways the audience in a strange thrilling way As she depicts the various human passions of rage hate, despair maternal and wifely love the audience follows her in spirit sympathizes with her distress, is indignant at the cause of her rage and takes a tender interest in the object of her love Miss Morris is supported by a very fine company, it is said, and her appearance here should be a notable one

The sale of seats will open to-morrow morning at nine o clock

Foot Ball Notes

The Bangor High School foot ball team will go to Old Town and play the Old Town High School team this afternoon Some changes have been made in the Bangor team since the last game The two teams are about of the same weight and the Old Town boys have had more practice, so that the game, will probably be somewhat closely contested, Next Saturday at 2 30 p m these teams will play in this city at Maplewood Park and a large crowd will doubtless attend

Other games will be played here just as soon as possible as Manager White is corresponding with different elevens A game has been arranged with Cony High School, Augusta, for Saturday, November 4th, at Augusta The Augusta boys mean to win that game if possible and are practicing hard at the present time Their unexpected defeat in this city last fall has had the effect of making them put forth every effort to win this year and the Bangor boys will doubtless take this fact into consideration

The game with Portland High School will occur at Portland on Saturday, November 11, and the Bangor boys will have to do the tallest kind of playing to win as Portland has an excellent eleven.

The Maine State College team is practicing at Searsport where the Coburn Cadets are in camp and are being coached by Mr Chesley M Johnston, of this city, guard on the Tufts College team of '92

Bowdoin and Phillips Exeter will probably play at Brunswick next Saturday The first game between these teams was won by Bowdoin 10-0 A change has been made in Bowdoin's center which is expected to strengthen it Dewey, who has been playing center rush, takes Thomas' place at right guard and Stevenson becomes center rush This adds to the weight of the line where it is needed Manager Bagley, of Bowdoin, expects to arrange a game with Maine State College in this city before long

A SUCCESS

The Great Musical Festival at Waterville

[Special Correspondence Whig and Courier]

WATERVILLE, Oct 11 The big musical festival which opened here very auspiciously last Monday evening is now upon its second day The chorus assembled is an exceptionally fine one, comprising many of the very best singers in the State Mr Zerrahn, who so say those who know him well, never fails ... has bestowed upon this class several very fine compliments which the singers are naturally proud of He said to-day that the chorus was as good as he ever had—in some respects better

Very gratifying progress has been made in the rehearsals that have been held

It is expected that a great showing will be made at the matinees and concerts, which come off to-morrow and Friday afternoons and evening At the first matinee the soloists appear Miss Gertrude ... Mr J C Bartlett and Mr Wulf Fries of Boston and Mr B B Hall of Waterville each having two numbers There will also be three grand choruses At the evening concert in addition to the solo talent above named there will be Miss Alice Wentworth, Mr D M Babcock and Martha D ... all of Boston

The second matinee occurs Friday afternoon at 2 and the second concert which closes the festival, Friday evening, half of the time of this last concert being devoted to the "Stabat Mater" Most of the great solos being given by the Boston artists Tickets are being ordered by mail from different localities and the prospects for large audiences at these concerts is encouraging Quite a number will be here from Bangor, Houlton and other places

Facts from Assessors Returns

While the State assessors have received complete returns from few counties, what they have indicate a falling off in the number of oxen kept on the farms This is supposed to be due to the high price of hay for the past year A quite general gain in of horses however is noticed

The decrease in the number of oxen kept is well illustrated by the following figures which show the number of head in two years

[illegible table]

The total valuation of the following counties was

Among the questions which the State board asks the town and city assessors when they meet them in the country conventions, is whether they favor a listing system or not ... about seven out of ten reply that they do The city assessors are almost solid against the system, says the Kennebec Journal

What is
CASTORIA
Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

BREWER LOCALS.

Mr. N. H. McGammon, of Old Town, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Helen Chadwick, of Holden, was in the city yesterday calling on friends.

Mrs. J. D. Hopkins, of Mount Desert Ferry, has been spending a short time in the city.

Messrs. Charles Miller and Charles Royal have gone to Great Pond on a hunting trip.

Mr. S. D. Hodgdon went up river yesterday with a crew of men for his winter's lumbering operations.

Some more "Indian summer" weather came yesterday, and the day was of that delightfully pleasant nature that only autumn brings.

Miss Elizabeth Folsom, of Palmyra, who has been visiting in the city, has gone to Pittsfield, called there by the illness of a relative.

The funeral of the late Mr. Frank B. Pendleton, of North Orrington, who died Monday, was to be held yesterday afternoon from his late home.

The three-masted schooner S. M. Bird, which has been on Messrs. E. & I. K. Stetson's marine railway for repairs, has been put in the water again.

Mrs. Kennedy and her daughter, Miss Hannah Kennedy, of South Brewer, left on the steamer Lewiston yesterday on their way to Portland for a visit.

Messrs. Black & Burrill, of the neighboring town of Dedham, are having repairs made in their saw mill there, in preparation for the coming winter's work.

Some boys at North Brewer broke a number of panes of glass in the windows of the house of Francis Roberts Sunday. One of them has settled for his mischief and the others will also be made to do so.

The steamer Castine, which has been at Barbour's dock receiving some slight repairs, went to Bucksport yesterday to take a base ball nine and friends from that town to Hampden, where the team was to play the Hampdens.

Miss Annie Holmes, of this city, has gone to Pittsfield and is engaged as the teacher of one of the schools there. Miss Holmes is a graduate of the Maine Central Institute and will undoubtedly meet with gratifying success.

Mrs. Joanna Bread, of East Eddington, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harriet Chatman, in Dedham. Mrs. Bread is quite an aged lady to go visiting, being 87 years old and is very active for one so far advanced in years.

Messrs. D. Sargent's Sons, of South Brewer, are sawing long lumber at their upper mill at that end of the city, in addition to that being turned out by the big band saw in the larger mill, the former having been started again this week.

Messrs. F. W. Ayer & Co.'s mill at South Brewer is shut down for a few days waiting for some logs to come down from up river. The firm has a large quantity of logs here, but they are those that have been [illegible] for next year's sawing.

Miss Florence Jameson was given a surprise party Tuesday evening by a number of her friends, the occasion being her birthday. The evening was an enjoyable one and its pleasantness was added to by the presentation to Miss Jameson of a very pretty gold ring.

A number of the ponds in this part of the State are being stocked with young landlocked salmon from the Lake Auburn hatchery and among those in this vicinity are Brewer pond, Phillips Lake, Parker pond and Hatcase pond. Each will receive 2,000 of the young fish, which are about three inches long.

Business was brisk in the municipal court yesterday. Ole Olson, a sailor from Sweden, paid a fine of $3 and costs for drunkenness. Charles Clark, of St. Albans, was sentenced to pay the same for a like offence and not having the money to settle, was committed. William Gibson was sent to the county jail for thirty days for drunkenness and Ralph Wentworth was fined $3 and costs for an assault on Albert Cobb.

To-day the annual fall opening at Miss E. M. Jones' millinery store on Center street, will begin and all the ladies are invited to attend and inspect the fine stock of goods in all the latest styles, which Miss Jones has just brought from Boston. Her stock is complete and the designs are very beautiful. The opening is to be held to-day and to-morrow and Miss Jones will be pleased to see her friends and customers on those days or any thereafter.

Grand Concert This Evening.

The advance sale of tickets for the grand concert, this evening, in City Hall, assures a large audience, and it will undoubtedly be a success. It will be the finest event of the kind ever given in Brewer, and none should miss it. The doors will be open at 7.00 o'clock and the concert will begin at 8. A glance at the programme, which we give below, will show that the evening will be a delightful one and the seating capacity of the house will, it is hoped, be tested. The programme is as follows:

Hints to Milk Makers.

The Iowa station, in order to satisfactorily answer the question whether any injustice would result to either party if the night's milk was set and skimmed and the cream mixed with the morning milk and sent to the separator creamery, made a test which is reported in one of their bulletins. Milk was taken immediately after milking and set in Cooley cans in water at a temperature of 42 degrees. The temperature of the milk was 98 degrees. The milk set from 7 in the evening until 7.45 the next morning, or nearly 13 hours, when it was skimmed. At that time the temperature of the water was 40 degrees, the ice used having reduced the temperature two degrees. The skim-milk was drawn off by means of siphons provided for that purpose at the bottom of the cans. The first 1½ inches of milk below the cream line were left with the cream. The cream was then well mixed with the morning's milk from the same cows and weighed and tested. The following table shows the weights of the evening milk, skim-milk and the mixture of cream and morning's milk, the per cent. of fat and the number of pounds of butter fat in each lot of milk:

	Weight.	Per cent fat.	Pounds fat.
Evening's milk	67	3.20	2.14
Skim milk	52	.20	.10
Morning's milk	68	3.30	2.24
Mixture of cream and morning's milk	83	5.20	4.31

In this table the fat in the skim-milk plus the fat in the mixture should equal the fat in the evening milk plus the fat in the morning milk. It will be noticed that there is a difference of .03 of a pound, but with ordinary test bottles the per cent. cannot be read close enough to avoid such a small error. A composite sample of the evening and morning milk tested 3.25 per cent. fat. Where creameries are conducted on the separator system the general custom among the patrons is to take both evening and morning milk and haul back the skim-milk. In this case there would have been 135 pounds of milk to be taken to the creamery testing 3.25 per cent. fat, as above noted. For this 4.38 pounds of butter fat, at 20 cents a pound, the patron would have received 87.6 cents. By skimming the evening milk and mixing the cream with the morning milk there were 83 pounds of the mixture, which, as shown in the above table, yielded 4.31 pounds fat. At 20 cents per pound this would be 86.2 cents. That is to say, the creameryman would lose nothing if the cream and morning milk was delivered instead of the milk of both evening and morning, and the patron's loss would be only the amount of fat he left in the skim-milk. Perhaps one of the most beneficial results of this test will be to show the absurdity of carting milk both ways by every farmer when three or four teams could gather the cream for a whole town.

The Window Garden.

When once a plant begins to show any signs of unhealthfulness in the winter window-garden, it should at once be removed and kept away from the others, for in respect of contagion plants for the most part are like people and are readily affected by surrounding conditions. The best treatment usually is a severe cutting back, and if the plant be a large one, the soil usually will be found impoverished. After cutting back, repot in a smaller sized crock, providing good drainage. Remove all insects, should they be found, and after washing the branches thoroughly, the plant may be set back with the others without interfering their health; but it must be kept quite dry until signs of active new growth are noticed, when the supply of water may be increased. Occasionally, during the winter, but not oftener than once a week, blooming and growing plants may be greatly benefited by a watering of weak manure water, or ammonia water in the event of the former not being readily attainable. It is a great mistake to apply such to plants that are unhealthy or are resting.—Country Gentleman.

A LONDON ASTOR HOUSE.
The Largest Inn in the World—To Cost $7,000,000.

A New York despatch says: It is current rumor among investors that William Waldorf Astor is about to build in London the largest and most costly hotel in the world, which, it is estimated, will cost more than $7,000,000.

The report that it is Mr. Astor who is to build it cannot be verified in official form in this city, but enough was learned from the architect of the building to state that an American capitalist will erect the hotel in London and that it will surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted. The architect of the new hotel is J. H. Hardenbergh of No. 15 West Twenty-third street.

"All I can say at the present time," said Mr. Hardenbergh, "is that such a hotel is to be erected in London, and by American capital. I am expecting information concerning the project from Europe by every steamer. Until my advices arrive I am not at liberty to talk about the matter or to say whether or not Mr. Astor is to furnish the capital."

According to report, among the New York architects, who had an eye out for such a rich plum as a $7,000,000 hotel, Mr. Astor's original intention was to have a hotel in New York, one in London and another in Paris, but that on a second review of the demand for such a big hotel of the kind he intended in Paris he gave up the Paris project and decided to build the largest hotel in the world in London. It is now claimed he is well satisfied with his investment in the Waldorf in this city, and expects great things from his London project.

Winterport News.

Our correspondent writes: E. G. Baker and Mrs. Catherine Simonton, of Winterport, were in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Lord is expected home this week from Bangor, where she was called by the sickness and death of her brother's wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Doe were in town, Sunday, on their way to Worcester, Mass. The best wishes of many friends follow Mrs. Doe to her new home.

Quarterly meeting services at the M. E. church next Sunday. Rev. V. P. Wardwell, of Hampden, will officiate, and Mr. Simonton will go to Hampden to conduct the services.

BACKACHE
No trouble is harder to bear than pains in the back and side. They sap the energies and tire and weaken the body. A weak back is readily strengthened in most cases, unless disordered kidneys are the cause. In that case a little more time is required, but a few bottles of Dr Baker's Grape Cure, patiently used, will certainly cure it. Rheumatism is very often the cause of backache. So also is a weak stomach. The terrible Bright's disease, and the horrors of gravel, follow neglected kidney weakness, and backache is one sign of its presence. We have the testimonial of a man who suffered for 15 years, tried doctor after doctor, and got no relief. Was in torture with his work, disturbed his sleep, at 30 was almost willing to die. He tried Grape Cure and was entirely well in two months.
It is not wise to let any pain go on until sickness is upon you and the doctor must be called, for a cure is easy NOW. Grape Cure is a safe vegetable compound of a Native Grape extract and well tried Herbs. It does not taste badly and it surely cures the pains of the body. You will receive good benefit from the first dose. At Druggists, $1.
